Family Code § 915 – Compiled March, 2011

Our review of the annotated history of this statute reveals the following legislative history (every “c.” below represents a separate legislative bill):

§ 915

Prior History: Former Civil Code sec. 5120.150, added 1984, c. 1671

Current:

Added: 1992, c. 162

Amended: 1993, c. 219

As enacted in 1984, the relevant former section read:

§ 5120.150. (a) For the purpose of this chapter, a child or spousal support obligation of a married person that does not arise out of the marriage shall be treated as a debt incurred before marriage, regardless whether a court order for support is made or modified before or during marriage and regardless whether any installment payment on the obligation accrues before or during marriage.

(b) Whether the earnings of a married person during marriage are liable for a child support obligation of the person's spouse that does not arise out of the marriage shall not be determined by this chapter but by the law in effect immediately before the operative date of this chapter.

(c) If community property is applied to the satisfaction of a child or spousal support obligation of a married person that does not arise out of the marriage, at a time when nonexempt separate income of the person is available but is not applied to the satisfaction of the obligation, the community is entitled to reimbursement from the person in the amount of the separate income, not exceeding the community property so applied.

(d) Nothing in this section limits the matters a court may take into consideration in determining or modifying the amount of a support order including, but not limited to, the earnings of the spouses of the parties.
